Sub:- Improving vigilance administration by leveraging technology:
Increasing transparency through effective use of websites in discharge of regulatory, enforcement and other functions of Govt.
Organizations.

A copy of Central Vigilance Commission’s Circular No.40/11/06 circulated vide their No.006/VGL/117 dated 22-11-2006 on the subject mentioned above is enclosed as Annexure ‘A’ for information and necessary action.

2.0 CVC has emphasized that they continue to receive a large number of complaints about inordinate delays and arbitrariness in processing applications on various matters. The majority of these complaints pertain to delays and non-adherence to the ‘first-come first-served’ principle. Thus to ensure transparency and curb malpractices, CVC has directed that the following may be implemented in the first stage as per time frame given in para 5.0 below:
2.1 Appropriate measures should be taken to ensure that complete information is provided on the website regarding the laws, rules and procedures in respect of items contained in list enclosed as Annexure ‘B’. All application forms/proformas relating to these items should be available on organisation’s website in downloadable form. If there is some charge for the application form downloaded from the computer, then the concerned party may be asked to pay for the amount through Bank draft/Railway money receipt etc. at the time of submission of application form. All documents to be enclosed or information to be provided by the applicant should be clearly explained on the website and should also form part of the application form.

2.2 As far as possible, the arrangement should be put in place so that application form, immediately after the receipt, is scrutinized and the applicant is informed about the deficiencies, if any, in the documents/information furnished. Repeated queries in a piece-meal manner should be avoided as the same shall be viewed as a misconduct having vigilance angle.

3.0 In the second stage, the status of the individual application/matter should be made available on the Organisation’s website and should be updated on weekly basis or more frequently as feasible so that the applicants remain duly informed about the status of their application.

4.0 In addition to manual receipt of application, feasibility of on line receipt of applications should also be examined and wherever feasible, a time frame for introducing the facility should be worked out.

5.0 Instructions contained in Para 2.0 above relating to first stage shall take effect from 1st January, 2007 and instructions relating to second stage contained in Para 3.0 above shall become effective from 1st April, 2007.

6.0 The General Managers/ MDs /Heads of Zonal Railways/ PUs/ PSUs/ other Units are advised to ensure that effective mechanism should be put in place for proper implementation of above mentioned preventive vigilance measures and the required information is placed on website in a user friendly manner before expiry of above mentioned deadlines. Further, regular updation of information should also be ensured. Proper log and records of updation carried out should be preserved for a minimum period of one year for scrutiny, if required.

7.0 Adequate publicity for these facilities in newspapers giving website addresses may also be given.
8.0 Copy of these instructions is also available at www.indianrailways.gov.in/vigilance/Home.htm

Encl : As above.

Circular no.40/11/06

Sub: Improving vigilance administration by leveraging technology: Increasing transparency through effective use of websites in discharge of regulatory, enforcement and other functions of Govt. organisations.

The Commission has been receiving a large number of complaints about inordinate delays and arbitrariness in the processing and issue of licenses, permissions, recognitions, various types of clearances, no objection certificates, etc., by various Govt. organisations. Majority of these complaints pertain to delays and non-adherence to the ‘first-come-first-served’ principle. In a number of cases, there are complaints of ambiguities regarding the documents and information sought for the grant of such licenses, permissions, clearances, etc. There is also a tendency in some organisations to raise piece-meal/questionable queries on applications, often leading to the allegations of corruption. In order to reduce the scope for corruption, there is a need to bring about greater transparency and accountability in the discharge of regulatory, enforcement and other public dealings of the Govt. organisations.

2. Improvement in vigilance administration can be possible only when systems improvements are made to prevent the possibilities of corruption. In order to achieve the desired transparency and curb the malpractices mentioned above, the Central Vigilance Commission, in exercise of the powers conferred on it under Section 8(1)(h) of the CVC Act, 2003, issues the following instructions for compliance by all Govt. departments/organisations/agencies over which the Commission has jurisdiction:-

i) All Govt. organisations discharging regulatory/enforcement functions or service delivery of any kind, which cause interface with the general public/private businesses, etc., shall provide complete information on their websites regarding the laws, rules and procedures governing the issue of licenses, permissions, clearances, etc. An illustrative list is given in the annexure. Each Ministry should prepare an exhaustive list of such applications/matters and submit a copy of same to the Commission for record and web-monitoring.

ii) All application forms/proformas should be made available on the websites in a downloadable form. If the organisation concerned wishes to charge for the application form downloaded from the computer, the same may be done at the time of the submission of the application forms.

iii) All documents to be enclosed or information to be provided by the applicant should be clearly explained on the websites and should also form part of the application forms.
iv) As far as possible, arrangements should be put in place so that immediately after the receipt of the application, the applicant is informed about the deficiencies, if any, in the documents/information submitted.

v) Repeated queries in a piece-meal manner should be viewed as a misconduct having vigilance angle.

vi) All organisations concerned should give adequate publicity about these facilities in the newspapers and such advertisements must give the website addresses of the organisations concerned.

3. In the second stage, the status of individual applications/matters should be made available on the organisation’s website and should be updated from time-to-time so that the applicants remain duly informed about the status of their applications.

4. In addition to the manual receipt of applications, all organisations should examine the feasibility of online receipt of applications and, wherever feasible, a timeframe for introducing the facility should be worked out. As a large number of Govt. organisations are opting for e-governance, they may consider integrating the above mentioned measures into their business processes so that duplication is avoided.

5. Instructions at para-2 above shall take effect from 1st January, 2007, and instructions at para-3 shall become effective from 1st April, 2007. All Heads of Organisations/Deptts. are advised to get personally involved in the implementation of these important preventive vigilance measures. They should arrange close monitoring of the progress in order to ensure that the required information is placed on the website in a user-friendly manner before the expiry of the abovementioned deadlines. They should later ensure that the information is updated regularly.

6. This issues with the approval of the Commission.
