Sub : Training slots for Act Apprentices

The Apprentices Act, 1961 was recently amended in December, 2014. Subsequently, the Apprenticeship Rules, 1973 were also amended in June, 2015. One of the key features of the amendment was that henceforth, the number of apprentices to be engaged is to be calculated based on the total strength of the establishment instead of trade-wise, as was being done earlier and that each establishment shall engage Apprentices in a Band of 2.5 to 10% of the total strength of the establishment including contractual staff.

Railway Board has decided that Zonal Railways and Production Units may engage apprentices for Apprenticeship training at a minimum of 2.5% of the strength of the establishment where such training is to be given. Accordingly, the Railway/PU wise allocation of slots has been indicated in Annexure – A. However, Apprenticeship training may be limited to the trades where training can be given in your respective establishments.
